RECALLS BORDER DAYS

BLIND MUSICAL GENIUS FROM NEW MEXICO IS VISITOR IN GLENDALE

One of the most remarkable musical geniuses the western states have produced is Miss Elizabeth Garrett of Los Cruces, N. M., who is a visitor at the home of Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper of Colorado boulevard. Miss Garrett has been blind from her birth, but as if in compensation for her sad deprivation she has been gifted with the most marvelous faculty for music. She is not only a singer of great merit, but she is also a musician of high standing and a composer of considerable originality.

Miss Garrett is the daughter of the famous Sheriff Garrett of Dona Ana and of Lincoln counties, New Mexico. Those who are acquainted with the early border history of New Mexico will recollect how Dona Ana and Lincoln counties were terrorized by bandits. The late Pat Garrett was instrumental in putting an end to these lawless conditions and his reputation as a man of stainless character and fearless courage remains unequaled there to the present hour.

Miss Elizabeth Garrett, however, has won her triumphs in peace. She was born blind and yet has not suffered from that defect so much as one might imagine. Her affliction has given her wonderful tenderness and extraordinary musical insight. She received an excellent musical training and was specially developed on the side of musical composition. The result is seen in her song so famous in New Mexico, "Oh, Fair New Mexico," which has been adopted as the state song by the state legislature. So much do the New Mexicans think of Miss Garrett and her song that they maintain it is a more tuneful and better conceived piece of work than "I Love You, California."

In order to reward Miss Garrett for her excellent work New Mexico voted funds to send her to San Diego fair in order to sing the state song during the time that ex-President Roosevelt was there. Her singing alone is attractive. Her work for the state inspired her to compose another song to Dona Ana county, in which the real spirit of the old Spanish days breathes and speaks.

When the state of New Mexico adopted Miss Garrett's song it also voted the sum of $350 to have it printed with the music and sent in sufficient quantities to every school in the state. Miss Garrett is an old friends of Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper, and spends a great part of her time when visiting her in composing songs and music, saying that she always gets new inspiration from her old friend.

COMPLIMENT TO WHOMES

In connection with his decision imposing four consecutive sentences on certain parties convicted of shoplifting, Judges Whomes, the recorder of Glendale, received the other day the folowing letter from District Attorney Woolwine:

Office of the District Attorney,
Los Angeles County
July 26, 1915.

Honorable J. Whomes,
City Recorder,
Glendale, Cal.

My Dear Judge: Captain Helms has just called my attention to your judgment in the case of Contreras, Martinez and Batestesta. I desire to compliment you on your efficient work, particularly for the manner in which you handled these cases.

In the history of this state, so far as I have been able to learn, but very few cumulative sentences have been properly pronounced in recorders' courts, and Glendale is exceedingly fortunate in having a recorder who not only exercises excellent judgment, but also has the ability to carry his judgment into effect so that they will stand good, as in this case, when tried out on habeas corpus in the superior court and finally in the district court of appeal.

I sincerely congratulate you and wish you abundant success in the future.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS LEE WOOLWINE,
District Attorney.

CHARLES ELLIS CELEBRATES

Charles Robert Ellis of 541 S. Kenwood, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, was four years old Wednesday, July 28, and nine of his little friends helped him celebrate. After a fine afternoon of fun those who sat in the small chairs around the low table full of goodies and centered with a beautiful birthday cake proudly bearing four lighted candles were Curtis McFadden, Bobbie Lang, Doris Stamps, Barbara Stamps, Francis Mandis, Tristan Beauset, Ruth Tower, Philip Goss, William Goss and the little host.

THE TIME IS FLYING

AMBITIOUS CANDIDATES ARE MAKING THE MOST OF THE EXTRA VOTE OFFER

Second Extra Vote Offer

Here's the second big extra vote offer of the contest. Forty thousand extra votes will be issued on every $25 worth of new subscriptions to the Evening News or Tri-City Progress turned into the Glendale Evening News office between Saturday, July 17, and Saturday, July 31, at 8 o'clock p. m. All daily subscriptions to count on this offer must be for at least three months, and all subscriptions to the Tri-City Progress must be for one year or longer.

Spurred on by the ever-present necessity of making time count while it counts the most, and determined to brush aside every obstacle that may arise between them and a long cherished ambition, most of the News contestants have sprung into action, placed on their mettle by the realization that now is the time of all times when results must be obtained in order to be counted a winner at the conclusion of this campaign. This spirit of firm resolve to get everything possible out of each day and not let a single subscription slip away is to be recommended.

Do not wait until Saturday. There is precious little time left of the 40,000 extra vote offer—two days to be exact—and if you value your chances of securing another club of $25 in new subscriptions don't wait until Saturday to do all your work. It will be the contestants who make hay now and use every day to its fullest capacity whose efforts will bear the greatest results.

Speculation is already rife as to who the lucky winners of the News' prizes will be. But who can tell? No one knows now, and the information cannot be imparted until the official judges, who will be selected from representative local business men, will have completed their task of checking up the vote after the final day. To soliloquize on the outcome is of no avail, though. It is real, energetic effort and never-ceasing determination that makes the close of the race seem brighter. Every candidate has an equal chance to win the $850 Maxwell Touring car, purchased of the Glendale King-Maxwell agency at Sixth and Brand; the $400 Schiller piano bought from the Platt Music Co. of Los Angeles; the trip to the exposition; the $75 scholarship to the Isaacs Woodbury Business college, the $50 deposit at the First National Bank of Glendale, or any one of the prizes, and the more work each candidate does the more certain will he or she be to win. Votes alone will decide the winners. Be a winner.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB MEETS

The session of the Glendale Shakespeare club held yesterday was one of peculiar interest owing to the fact of the presence of Mrs. Helen Babcock and Mrs. Durphal of Ramona Acres, both active members of the Shakespeare section of the Friday morning club of Los Angeles.

These ladies were so delighted with the work done by Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan that they proceeded at once to enroll as members of the Glendale Shakespeare club.

Ten new members were present, making the enrollment of forty active members.

Mrs. Sloan is to be the guest of Mrs. Babcock at the Friday Morning club tea this week.

There will be two more meetings of the club before vacation and in September the work will be taken up with renewed interest. The next play studied will be Macbeth.

OUR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce Mr. George H. Maxwell, executive director of the National Irrigation Association, and author of "Our National Defense—The Patriotism of Peace," will lecture on the subject of "National Defense" in the auditorium of the Union High School Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be illustrated with stereoptic on views of a highly interesting character and Mr. Maxwe'l will have something to tell the people of Glendale valley concerning the control of flood waters and the conservation of water supply. Messrs. Owen Wright and Barnes Wright, the well-known vocalists, will sing several solos.

LIBRARY MUSIC DAY

CHILDREN LEARN ABOUT FAMOUS MUSICIANS AND HEAR THEIR MUSIC

It was a pleasant variation of the usual literary program that greeted the chi'dren yesterday morning at the children's hour at the public library. Mrs. Danford was assisted by Miss Rhea in her talk to the children, who listened with marked interest to the story of the great musicians. They also viewed with interest the pictures of St. Cecilia, Fanny Crosby, Beethoven, Mendelssohn and others used in the course of the lecture.

Mrs. Danford gave the children an interesting account of the real life of the famous St. Cecilia, the Roman martyr and patroness of music. She also told them of the wonderful legends that had grown up around the story of the beautiful Roman girl who was as good as she was beautiful.

Then the speaker took up the story of Fanny Crosby, by which name Mrs. Frances Jane Van Alstyne, the blind American hymn writer, has always been better known than by her own. She told the children of the deep influence Fanny Crosby's hymn had on the spiritual history of the world. Various books on music and on the history of music were pointed out to the children and the little ones set on the right road for acquiring information concerning the great musicians and their work.

Miss Rhea illustrated the lecture by music on her violin, including such attractive pieces as Dvorak's "Humoresque, Godard's beautiful Berceuse from "Jocelyn" and the famous Swiss air, "Gentle Zitella," given as an imitation of flute music. On the whole this was one of the most enjoyable of the lecture course.

Thaw having received his certificate of sanity, may turn to William Travers Jerome and say: "Go thou and do likewise."

QUESTION OF FLOODS

COMMITTEE TO REPORT ON BUILDING STREETS IN STORM DISTRICT

There was a represenative attendance at a meeting of citizens representative of property along the line of the Sycamore canyon wash, held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the city hall. The question for consideration was the well-known problem of how to handle the storm waters in that district.

City Manager T. W. Watson was appointed chairman and G. B. Woodberry, secretary. Mr. Watson reported that 90 per cent of the residents in the Sycamore canyon storm district had given consent to the construction of a street or streets through the district so that the waters might be brought under control. Mr. E. M. Lynch, city engineer, discussed the question from the standpoint of the engineering department. He stated that an underground conduit would cost $100,000, exclusive of the right of way; that an open conduit would cost $65,000 and that a street should be constructed at a cost of from $35,000 to $40,000.

After a thorough discussion the sense of the meeting was expressed in a motion, carried unanimously, that provision should be made to take care of the waters of Sycamore canyon, by constructing a street or streets in accordance with expert engineering advice on that point. A committee consisting of H. P. Coker, G. B. Woodberry and W. W. McElroy was appointed to confer with City Engineer Lynch and report as to the advisability of constructing one or more streets in the storm district.

R. A. Peterson, L. E. Brockman and P. A. C. Moore were appointed a committee to confer with the owners of property along the Sycamore canyon wash line and secure their cooperation in the plan. The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

WHO DUG THE PANAMA CANAL?
"IT WAS THE COLONEL"

Who dug that ditch? Let it be known
Who ordered vertebrae undone
Notching a continent's backbone
And driving two seas into one!
Who conjured with slow going time,
Impatient at his long delays,
Performed a miracle sublime,
Month-voyages reduced to days?

More than three hundred years ago
Forced in great distance "round the Horn,"
In voyage perilous and slow,
Desire for the Canal was born.
One language from the sailors came,
"How long will this great hindrance run?
What friendly power will build the same,
All will agree it should be done."

Across the continent's backbone
French wreckage told of schemes upset,
Proclaiming in defiant tone
"My vertebrae are holding yet.
Ample the opportunity
Should others care to take a hand
To empty out their treasury
And make a graveyard of the land."

Oh, little State of Panama,
With uninhabitable coast,
Where only poisonous reptiles are,
Danger and death your only boast,
What magic wakened thee from gloom—
What process cut thy death rate short—
What changed thy title from a tomb,
And made of thee a "health resort?"

United States—most favored land—
Puts forward her high favored son
Born with a genius to command,
"Build that Canal"—"It shall be done."
Ho! Gorgas! sanitation spread,
Snatch the malaria from the air,
Let in the sunshine overhead,
And drive contagion from its lair.

Ho, Wallace, Shonts and Goethals! here
Is task well worthy of your skill.
Lay to, and naught shall interfere
With the expression of your will.
Who built the ditch? Great names you call,
And for each one great pride is felt,
But over and above them all
Just write the name of Roosevelt.

PI BETA PHI PARTY

BOSTON LITERARY AND SOCIETY PEOPLE ARE CHARMED WITH GLENDALE

During a whole week of pleasant exploration of Glendale and its vicinity the large company of Boston literary and society people who formed a unique house party at Mrs. Perce H. Curtis' house on S. Central avenue, enjoyed surprise after surprise prepared for them by their hostess. The notable guests, among whom were Mrs. Pomeroy Rugg, a famous magazine writer and author of several volumes of note, and Mrs. David Nickerson, wife of the famous Boston publisher, were met by their hostess at Tropico on their arrival and were driven around Glendale before dinner. They were deeply impressed by the wealth of beautiful scenery on every hand.

Dinner on that Sunday was a pleasing affair. The guests and their husbands found the fraternity idea everywhere, the dark red carnation and the tiny gold arrow of the Phi Beta Phis being used as a motif in decorations, favors and flowers. Monday the guests enjoyed an informal dance which was varied by fine college songs and choruses on the veranda of the house.

The sea was the attraction on Tuesday and the whole party in autos were whirled through Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica and spent a pleasant time listening to the music of the Pacific. The residential sections of Hollywood, Los Angeles, Pasadena and Alhambra were visited in autos and the guests, after viewing the handsome and comfortable homes of the millionaires, were taken through the more enduring riches of Elysian Park, the eccntric wonders of the Busch gardens and the antique humility of San Gabriel mission. The afternoon was spent at the Mission Play, where the party were guests of John McGroarty, author of the play. The return to Glendale was made by way of Pasadena and Eagle Rock.

Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Green gave a barn dance in honor of the party at their delightful home on Ninth street, Thursday evening. The easterners were charmed by the genuine hospitality and heartwhole fun of the entertainment.

Long Beach was the party's destination on Friday. There the Long Beach Alumnae club of Pi Beta Phi gave them a delightful beach luncheon. Some of the party went to Catalina Saturday. Others attended a tea in Los Angeles, given in their honor by graduates of the University of Southern California. In the evening the whole party visited the Palace Grand "movies." As a reminder of their visit the party presented Mrs. Curtis with a beautiful fumed oak tea wagon.

Those constituting the party were: Misses Jennie Allyn, Helen Richardson, Amy Wallon, Gertrude Jackson, Emily Gordon, Louise Richardson and Helen Barrett, Mrs. David D. Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Augustus Rugg and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bacon.

Sunday after dinner the party separated with profound regret, some going to San Diego; others starting home by the Canadian Pacific, intending to take in Crater Lake and Rainier Park on the way.

CONCERT AND DANCE

Quite an interest is being taken in the promenade concert and dance that is to be given at the Richardson home, corner Central avenue and Riverdale Drive, Saturday, July 31. The idea of having a dance on the tennis court has caught the fancy of all the enthusiasts and there is going to be a fine attendance. The dance is the idea of Mrs. Ella Richardson, who has got it up for the benefit of the Pacific Avenue Playground fund. The Thorp orchestra be in attendance and admission will be fifty cents. Take the Glendale car to Lomita avenue.

Those who will assist in making the evening enjoyable for all are Messrs. and Mesdames Dale Vaughn, Alex Mitchell, Claud O. Pulliam, S. C. Packer, Menzo Williams, C. D. Roach and many others.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pulpit of the First Baptist church will be occupied by the pastor at both services of the Lord's day. "The Adjusted Life" is announced for the morning theme. "The World War in the Light of Prophecy" will be the subject of an interesting evening discourse. Bible students are especially welcome.

The regular midsummer communion service will be held at the close of the morning services. All members are expected to report.

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 p. m.

MISERY IN MEXICO

VISITORS FROM JUAREZ SAY POVERTY AND FAMINE RACK COUNTRY

Every now and then a visitor comes from Mexico to Glendale with a tale that gives the favored inhabitants of this section of God's country a glimpse of the gehenna that prevails across the border. Americans may be pleased that the wisdom of those who bear power in this land has preserved it from war when they hear what it means to have factions contending for the upper hand in a country.

Mrs. Charles McDow and her daughter Lalla recently arrived in Glendale to visit friends here. Their home has been in Juarez, Mex., where they have resided for some time and have resided during the recent fighting. Mrs. McDow says that the conditions in Juarez are indescribable. The military are in absolute power and have taken possession of everything in the city. Nobody can get even a piece of bread until the army has been satisfied. It is so with every other article of food. Little babies may cry all day long for their natural sustenance, milk, but the brave soldier must have it first.

No one will be served in the meat market until the soldiers' rations have been supplied. Even when it is possible to obtain a little meat it is too often putrid and has been left exposed to the infection of million myriads of flies that infest the city. Bread is just as difficult to obtain and as revolting when obtained.

Supposing one had substantial funds his money would not last long under the Mexican system of charges. The value of the Mexican dollar has shrunk until even Mr. Bryan would take another thought about the free coinage of silver. In the United State a silver dollar purchases 100 cents' worth of goods; in Mexico where the dollar's value has never been more than 50 cents, it has now sunk to 2 cents. A loaf of bread costs, at this rate, $5. A pound of sugar costs $10; tea and coffee are at prohibitive prices and milk even when obtainable is beyond the reach of any ordinary purse.

Whatever food is purchased in the markets is dirty beyond belief and has to be carefully cleaned before using; some of it has to be disinfected. Feed for horses and cattle has almost disappeared, with the exception of what is taken for the army of occupation. Military men are the dictators of civic life and martial law prevails over civil. The consequence is that summary punishments follow even the slightest infraction of the military regulations.

Naturally all those who remained in the city after the first fighting are now bidding farewell to the shot-riddled walls of their dwellings and seeking more peaceable quarters in the United States. It is pitiable to see the straits to which the war has reduced some of the leading Mexican families such as the Terrazas and others. El Paso, which is just across the border, is the refuge for many of those who were formerly leaders of wealth and fashion in Mexico.

El Paso can show you a dozen scions of wealthy Mexican families doing common hard labor for their daily bread. One of the Terrazas family is driving a jitney bus in that city. That is nothing, however. He is fortunate to be in El Paso in the first place, and in the second in having something to do. Others are in a worse plight, having no money and no work. Mexico's light-heartedness is gone. If the war keeps on much longer the land and the nation will be so changed none will be able to recognize them.

CITY IN DAMAGE SUIT

City Manager Watson and other officials of Glendale are in Los Angeles today attending the superior court in connection with a suit brought against the city by John Kenyon, 235 E. Third St., for damage done to his property by the flood waters of Verdugo Canyon wash.

Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain of the Southern California Veterans' association, will deliver an address at the annual outing of the association, which will be held in Huntington Beach August 10 to the 20th. Rev. Norton has chosen as his topic, "Honor to whom Honor is due," and will deliver the address Sunday morning, August 15, in the large auditorium that has been erected on the grounds where the veterans hold their annual outing.

WOMEN'S CLUBS IN ALASKA

Among the false ideas prevalent concerning Alaska is the one which represents its people as dwelling in sublime ignorance of the amenities of modern civilization. The truth is that there are no privileges which outsiders have that Alaskans do not enjoy. They have fine schools, excellent churches, fine public halls and large halls belonging to secret societies. Their expenditures for everything that can add to the joy and beauty of living are per capita far in excess of those of outside districts. They have well-conducted newspapers and the population itself is of a very high standard of intelligence.

Alaskans demand and obtain the very best of everything the world contains. They have the money to make them independent and they refuse to take inferior articles or submit themselves to inferior conditions. Their cities are well lighted with electric lights and comfort and even luxury are everywhere.

It is therefore astonishing to read that Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of the United States, recently returned from a visit to Alaska to tell, as if it were something marvelous, of "finding" a club of twelve women "away up in Valdez." That is very funny to people who have lived in Alaska. "Away up in Valdez" means, if Mrs. Pennybacker went no further, that she halted at the open port on the coast, a harbor that is open all the year round and never saw much of the great country beyond—thousands of miles beyond.

In Nome, which is 1100 miles north from Valdez, there has always been a flourishing Women's Club, known by the Eskimo name "Kegoayah Kozga," which means Aurora Borealis Club. That club has always had a membership of fifty and sometimes more—women of marked intelligence with a fine literary program and some of the cleverest women on the Pacific coast to read and criticise it. Their musicales would compare by no means unfavorably with those of Glendale's famous Tuesday Afternoon Club and indeed many of its members were at one time associated with the leading women's clubs of California.

Fairbanks, the capital of the interior, is another thriving, progressive city with fine newspapers and a population of healthy and intelligent people, drawn from the very best classes in the United States. There, too, is a Women's Club of no mean standing. Those who have attended the Convention of Women's Clubs in San Francisco must have come in contact with the delegates from various parts of Alaska. It is not too much to say that those delegates could not do otherwise than create a favorable impression on the convention. Should the Alaska women's clubs federate as is suggested the world is likely to hear more from them.

LIFE CAREER STUDY

One of the most difficult things for a boy or girl to determine is what shall be his or her life career. To set young people on the right path and enable them to determine what career they ought to pursue Mr. Charles Jacobs has been conducting a course in Life Career Study in the San Jose High School for the last two years. The work has been made a regular subject of the high school curriculum and accredited for graduation.

In the San Jose High School about twenty seniors and juniors have taken the course each year since 1913. The course is divided into four main parts: First, that part which aims to make the pupil more capable of judging his own ability; second, that which purposes to acquaint him with the condition which prevails in the work-a-day world; third, that which endeavors to give the pupil an idea of the elements which contribute to success in life; and lastly, that which aims to show how all these factors involved in the making of a successful career may be worked into a well-conceived plan of life.

This seems a notably useful addition to the high school curriculum but it is probable that many students will feel that as long as it is not accepted by the university for entrance it is time wasted to elect it. It is true that the student is already burdened with an enormous number of subjects for college entrance; but as a factor in a liberal education it should not be overlooked.

ECONOMY AND THE WAR

With all Europe engaged in unproductive occupation the governments of the various countries have called on their people to exercise economy in all things. Had this doctrine been enforced before the war began it might have done much to prevent it. War is destructive of all that peace conserves and develops and in order to carry it on the superfluous expenditure of peace must be curtailed.

Perhaps the war has opened people's eyes in this way to the fact that economy should be reckoned among the common virtues and practised in ordinary times just as honesty and temperance are. The wise use of money would make individuals and nations well-to-do. The striving after wealth is a contest that engenders bitter rivalries and gives birth to cruelties and injustices that are a blot on Christian civilization.

This war has shown that the mad rush for commercial supremacy conjoined to vast expenditures on arms and armaments is not, as has been thought, a national insurance against war; but really an international assurance that war will break out. All that peace earned is being wasted in war and it should not be long before the producers of the world called a halt to the insensate greed and hatred that have given birth to such atrocious consequences.

BURBANK

Burbank has never been a boon town. Its growth has always been of a steady and substantial nature. C. F. Greenman, one of Burbank's oldest and most substantial citizens, says that few people really realize the phenomenal increase in property values the last decade. When Mr. Greenman came to Burbank twenty years ago from Rockford, Iowa, he bought a large ranch at a very low figure. Two years later he entered the real estate business in this locality and sold thousands of acres for from $75 to $150 an acre, land that now commands from $600 to $1200 per acre. At that time lots on either side of the San Fernando road were listed at from $5 to $35. Now these same lots are worth from $30 to $1200. The entire block in which the postoffice is located was valued at $5000, while the four lots including the corner on which stands the Burbank pharmacy was sold for $1000. A concrete example of the increase of property is the Biggar tract, which was recently subdivided. This tract was purchased fifteen years ago for $1950 and sold the last year subdivided for upwards of $25,000.

"The worth of ranches in the vicinity of Burbank more than compares favorably with farm lands in other parts of the country," says M. L. Thompson, well-known local realty man, whose offices are in the Horne building. Mr. Thompson, before coming to Burbank nearly two years ago, had considerable experience selling land in Kansas and Texas, and is certainly enthusiastic on the subject of Burbank acreage, and his optimistic opinion is substantiated by the abundant crops of the present year, as never has the outlook for local ranches been better than that of the present season.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the city trustees held their weekly meeting at the city hall, the meeting being called to order at 2 p. m. Members present were Blanchard, Kline, Forbes and Craig, Trustee Hogle being the only trustee absent.

City Clerk Emily Peyton read the minutes of the last regular meeting, which were approved and filed.

A communication was received from the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county in the matter of the proposed construction of viaducts for the purpose of elimination of dangerous grade railroad crossings. President Blanchard appointed Trustee Forbes a representative to attend the sessions of the committee appointed by the board of supervisors.

A protest against the present condition of Second street where it intersects on the west side of Olive avenue was read, accepted and ordered filed, and the clerk instructed to notify protestants that the board would hear said protests at 2 p. m. Tuesday, August 3rd, in the city hall. A motion to that effect was made by Trustee Kline and seconded by Trustee Forbes, which was carried. Adjournment.

That there are opportunities in Burbank for a woman to do well in business is we'l known and a concrete example is the case of Mrs. C. A. Horne. Mrs. Horne a few years ago purchased a lot in the 200 block on San Fernando Blvd. (it was Second street then) and erected a substanial brick block at a cost of about $7000, which building now brings in a handsome investment. The lower floor consists of two store rooms which are occupied by McNutt's Pharmacy and the Burbank picture show. On the second floor are a couple suites of offices and Horne's hall, which is equipped with a stage and in which local dramatic entertainments are held, and which is also used for a public dance each Saturday night, music being furnished by the well-known Southwick orchestra of Los Angeles.

R. M. Coe and family left Tuesday for Bloomington, which is a small station near Riverside. Mr. Coe has been here for three years, during which time he built a nice bungalow home. He has had charge of the electric block signal work of the S. P. Ry. and goes on short notice to do similar work at a very important station. Mrs. Coe's health has not been good and her Burbank neighbors have proved true friends, and she desires us at this time to extend her sincere thanks to them all for their many kindnesses and to assure them that she would have liked to have bid them each a personal farewell, yet this sudden call prevents it, but that she hopes to return and greet them all once more.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Winger have moved over from Long Beach and are now at home on the Stough ranch.

The hall on the Burbank block is being redecorated and otherwise put in shape for entertainments and dances. It's two outside exposures make it most pleasant for the warmer evenings.

John Lultge and family spent Sunday at the Ocean Park beach.

A. Durfur and wife and Mr. Emery and wife returned Tuesday from a three days' visit with friends at Whittier.

Master Edward Potter accompanied Mrs. Tetley on her return to Riverside and will make a short visit at that place.

Mr. Tomlinson, who resided in Faxton Apts., moved Tuesday of this week to South Pasadena, where he

GROCERS' PICNIC AUG. 5

Every grocer with his family and friends in this city has been invited to attend the big picnic of the Southern California Retail Grocers' association on the pier at Ocean Park Thursday, August 5, which has been declared a holiday by the grocers and all stores of those affiliated with the association and such others as desire will be closed.

This is the second annual outing of the association and it is expected that thousands will attend from all over Southern California. Manager Neal P. Olsen, who is also secretary, has arranged all manner of contests and amusements. A large number of prizes will be awarded, consisting of goods manufactured by food producers.

Manager Olsen has written the News to extend a special invitation to the grocers here to come and bring all the friends they wish. There will be a special rate for the day of 25 cents for the round trip to the beach from Los Angeles and extra cars will be provided by the Pacific Electric. A glad hand comittee will be on deck to welcome the visitors.

It is planned to announce at this picnic the opening of an active campaign for the Sunday closing of all grocery stores, both because the grocer needs the rest and because it is morally right to shut up shop on the Sabbath.

Secretary Olsen of the association plans to visit this city soon and organize a local association if the grocers desire it. Much is being accomplished in the way of better legislation and in improving conditions for the trade and the consumers by this organization.

PERSONALS

Dr. and Mrs. Roy V. Hogue entertained as their guests for several days Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cottrill of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson Heacock of Alliance, Ohio, are guests at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Heacock of 518 Lomita avenue.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Fowler of 1230 Chestnut St., Glendale, a lusty, eight-pound baby boy at 2 p. m. Wednesday, July 28, at the Burbank hospital.

Mrs. Frank U. Drew of Colorado Springs, Colo., who is spending the summer in Los Angeles, is at present the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Roy V. Hogue of Myrtle street.

Mrs. E. T. Tuck of Santa Rita, New Mexico, is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Roy V. Hogue, of 1418 Myrtle street. Later, Mr. Tuck will join his wife for a vacation trip.

Will L. Winslow, brother of Mrs. Edgar Leavitt, 512 Orange street, arrived in Glendale yesterday from the middle west to help take care of his mother, who is still confined to bed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rumble of Georgia have returned to their southern home after a several months' visit at the home of N. W. McBryde, 1506 Vine street. Mrs. Rumble is Mrs. McBryde's sister.

Miss Carolyn Coffey, o cousin of Rev. F. A. Field of 239 South Kenwood street, spent Sunday afternoon and evening with the family. Miss Coffey is traveling with a company of fifty Christian Endeavorers who left Chicago about two weeks ago.

Little Myrl Linkogel, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Linkogel, of Central avenue, who was so seriously burned, is slowly recovering under the special care of Dr. Boyer. This patient little sufferer accidentally overturned a bowl of hot soup on her left arm, which burned from the shoulder to the elbow, causing a very angry and ugly wound. Dr. Boyer is endeavoring to preserve the arm from any scar and after effects of the accident.

J. Clarence Klamm, who is an optician at 1218½ W. Broadway, will soon be celebrating his first anniversary at his present location. Before leasing his place of business Mr. Klamm had five years' experience in optical work in Los Angeles, but entered business for himself in Glendale, thinking that there was need for a first-class optician in this city. His hopes have been more than justified, for each month has shown a steady growth in his clientele.

F. O. Moore of the Store of a Million Articles, says that in spite of talk of slow times and unsatisfactory business by some merchants in Southern California, his business at 1008 W. Broaodway has steadily increased since moving from 608 West Broadway. Mr . Moore has originated a novel feature which perhaps no other store in the state has. With every purchase of $1.00 he gives a ticket good for a local auto ride, and his Sunset phone, No. 656J, is kept busy ringing from people who wish to take advantage of a free auto ride.

DENVER GUEST ENTERTAINS

Mrs. J. P. Ritchie of Denver, Colo., who has been spending the past few months as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Phillips of 710 W. Fifth street, was the charming hostess at a most delightful luncheon given in a fashionable tea room in Los Angeles Wednesday noon, complimentary to Miss Irene Cliff of Leadville, Colo., who is spending the summer in Southern California.

Lavender and white sweet peas were most effectively used in the pretty decorations. Seated with the hostess and the charming honoree were Mrs. I. J. Phillips, mother of the hostess; Miss Edith Petty, Ft. Collins, Colo.; Miss Helen Wolcott, leading lady of the National studio, Los Angeles; Miss Bess Phillips and sister, Miss Catherine Phillips of Glendale.

MARRIAGE OF W. E. HEWITT

From Pittsburg, Pa., comes the news that Mr. William Edgar Hewitt has given up the joys of single blessedness and entered on the wider experience of wedded bliss. Mr. Hewitt is the enterprising and successful manager and part proprietor of the Glendale Laundry which, under his expert care, has developed into one of the largest businesses in the city. The bride was Miss Hazel Miller, daughter of Mrs. Ida Smith Miller of Pittsburg, Pa. After an extended honeymoon the happy couple will be at home by Oct. 1.

SENTENCED FOR WIFE BEATING

Judge H. M. Miller held court in Eagle Rock at 10 o'clock this morning when the case of the People vs. Joe Tryer was tried. Mrs. Tryer was the complaining witness against her husband who was charged with battery. Tryer had been up on the same complaint on three previous occasions, but was dismissed on account of insufficient evidence. Mrs. Tryer's numerous bruises and a black eye were evidences of guilt on the part of her husband. Judge Miller found Tryer guilty and sentenced him to six months in the county jail.

Tryer was intoxicated at the time of the assault upon his wife and he will have abundant time to become sober and get the liquor out of his system.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mrs. Minnie Muller of Los Angeles was the guest of her son and family, Mr. Elliot Cresson Muller of 926 Fairview avenue, during the week.

Mrs. A. G. Williams of 1690 Stocker street is entertaining as her house guest for the week her mother, Mrs. S. Boyer of Radium Springs, Los Angeles.

Mrs. G. Peoples of 908 Melrose avenue entertained as her guest for the day, Wednesday, Mrs. Frank Davidson of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Reuter of 930 Fairview avenue enjoyed a motor trip to Balboa Beach last Tuesday, where they spent a couple of days, stopping at the Palisades Tavern while there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Josselyn of 1641 Ruth street motored to Los Angeles Wednesday looking after their property interests in Belvidere district, where they expect to move in the near future.

Mrs. H. L. Brightly of North Central avenue spent Monday in Los Angeles, where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Eyton.

VALLEY VIEW

T. D. Hilbert and family of 1519 Vine street have gone to the beach to spend two or three weeks.

Fred Volkhart is sporting a brand new motorcycle.

The old Van Vorce house at 1571 Vine street has changed owners three times in the past month. The people who secured it from Van Vorc failed to pay several bills for repairs on the house and we understand several liens have been filed.

Miss Grace Hamaker, who formerly lived at 1500 West Seventh street, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

A couple living on West Fifth St. have unpleasant memories of the ill-fated Eastland, the steamship that turned turtle in Chicago Saturday morning, drowning over 1000 people. The couple in question were members of an excursion party from Cedar Point, near Cleveland, to Sandusky, and the boat at that time was jammed with 4000 people. On the way it grazed a sand bar and careened far over to one side, frightening all the passengers.

Valley View is all puffed up over its new playground. The grandstand is big enough to accommodate a Los Angeles-Vernon crowd and a finer tennis court is seldom seen. This attention to the children's desire for healthier play is a very wise move and one that meets with the approval of all the parents.

B. K. Kivet and wife of 1615 Oak street have a new girl baby.

Mrs. C. M. Blake of 1564 W. 5th, who has been absent for 2 months past, with her little daughter, visiting her old home in Montreal, Canada, and her husband's home in New Hampshire, is expected home in a few days.

Hawthorne street, newly paved, was opened for travel Monday.

Mrs. F. S. Smedley of 1545 Riverdale, arrived at home Tuesday from a several days' visit in San Francisco.

TROPICO

Mrs. David H. Imler of Palm Villa, was one of several guests who accepted the hospitality of Miss Emma Hagerty, Wednesday, when Miss Hagerty entertained a coterie of friends with a charming luncheon at her home in Los Angeles. Pink and blue hydrangeas were arranged most effectively through Miss Hagerty's home. The motif of this delightful social was as a gracious farewell to Miss Helen McCracken of Helena, Montana, who leaves for her home shortly, after a delightful visit in Los Angeles and throughout Southern California.

Mrs. George Damon contemplates leaving shortly on an extended trip to Newark, N. J.

Friends of Miss Anna Anderson and sister, Miss Elsie Anderson, have received word that these popular young ladies are enjoying a most delightful vacation at La Jolla and San Diego.

Many are the friends of C. C. West who will regret to learn that he is ill at the home of his niece, Mrs. John Hobbs of North Central avenue. Mr. West, who is advanced in years, has been residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs the past year.

Mrs. T. Hardigan of Central avenue is spending a few days in San Diego.

Miss Myrt'e A. Baldwin and sister, Miss Ida Baldwin, of North Central avenue, accompanied by their house guests, Miss Olivia Todd and Miss Eunice Cox of Dayton, Ohio, left for Lytle Creek Wednesday morning, where they will enjoy a delightful ten days' or two weks' outing at the Baldwin cabin, located in a quaint and picturesque nook.

Judge Gary's hearty endorsement of military expansion comports well with the business of manufacturing steel and its finished products.

has a picture concession at the Cawston ostrich farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dewey, who have been spending a week with Mr. Dewey's mother at the hotel, returned to their home at Riverside Monday.

The new Ford delivery car is now fully equipped with its up-to-date body and is making rapid trips all over the city, to the delight of their many patrons.

A merry crowd of twelve young ladies and gentlemen chartered an auto truck and went to Venice last Saturday evening. It is needless to say that they had an enjoyable time.

Sample copies of the Tri-City Progress have been distributed for the past three weeks to citizens of Burbank who are not subscribers. Next week copies of the paper will be sent only to the regular subscribers.

A serious accident occurred Monday evening of this week when the 9 o'clock P. E. car hit a wagonload of cantaloupes belonging to the Cox ranch near Casa Verdugo. The accident took place at the Duffield Park crossing, C. Gibbs being the driver of the wagon and accompanied by a Jap. Both men were thrown from the vehicle, Gibbs sustaining severe bruises and the Jap having his back seriously injured. The Jap was at once taken to the Burbank hospital and it is thought that he will recover.

A good hotel is a great help to any community, and the Burbank hotel as conducted by Mrs. Josephine Jenkins and her three daughters is of great advantage to Burbank. Mrs. Jenkins came to this city from Billings, Mont., where she had been interested in the hotel business, about six months ago. When Mrs. Jenkins took charge of the local hostelry the business was considerably run down, but through the capable management of the present owner the business has been greatly increased. A specialty is made of catering to transients and automobile parties.

Strangers always speak of the fact that many ranchers buy their supplies and are seen transacting business in Burbank. Nowhere is this pleasing indication of the town's prosperity more noticeable than at J. L. Smith's blacksmith, repair shop and implement establishment on San Fernado Blvd. Mr. Smith came to Burbank from Gardena, Cal., about a year ago, he purchasing the business from A. J. Harris. A department of this local industry that Mr. Smith has originated is the building of steel bodies for auto trucks and convenient trailers for autos.

W. L. Pollock and wife returned Tuesday from an auto trip into the San Joaquin valley, having spent about five days on the trip, during which they visited Grant's park and other points of interest. They were accompanied by Mrs. Pollock's father, J. J. Morgan of Hollywood. Among the many things that attracted their attention was the canning and drying factories. No fruit goes to waste in that valley. The Fruit associations ship out the high-grade fruit by the carload, while the lower qualities are dried or canned and nothing wasted. Our Burbank fruit and vegetable men should do likewise.

If one were to be Rip Van Winklye through the next twenty years, one would awaken to look upon a world vastly different in condition. A fifth of a century from now Christian civilization will have done a great deal toward rehabilitating itself.

Miss Lulu Green has accepted the position of teacher in a school near Lang.

Miss Ada Bisbee has returned home after a six weeks' visit in Imperial valley.

Mrs. E. G. Metcalf and son leave Friday evening for a two months' visit with relatives in San Francisco.

Competitive plans for the proposed new school house have been called for and are to be in by the tenth of August.

The Misses Margaret and Anna Armstrong of Roy avenue have been spending the past week in Santa Ana with Mrs. Frye and family.

Mrs. P. H. Johnson will entertain with a thimble party Friday afternoon in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Alkyre of Illinois.

Mrs. P. H. Johnson entertained last Friday afternoon with a card party in honor of Mrs. Alkyre. Those present besides the guest of honor were Mrs. Shepherd, Mrs. Penfield, Mrs. F. D. Lanterman, Mrs. Maynard, Miss Martha Herrington, Miss Young and Mrs. H. L. Cooper.

A party of young people gave a very successful surprise party to Miss Helen Cooper last Friday evening. Letters were written by those present and given to Miss Cooper to be read by her while she is away. The evening was much enjoyed by every one present.

Several La Canada people are planning to visit the San Francisco exposition next week, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Anderson and Miss Elsa Anderson, Misses Rowena and Lulu Green, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cooper, Miss Martha Herrington and Miss Helen Cooper.

prise, and all completed by the cordial reception of its people, who have extended to us almost without exception the typical "right hand of fellowship," has made each day a memorable one, and so captivated us that we can endorse their claim, that "La Canada is the cream of the earth," and we know that comparatively few people know of this wonderful valley and its ideal location, either for a summer home or permanent residence.

With two water companies, each steadily increasing its capacity, the old story about a scarcity of water in La Canada has literally been washed away. An abundance of the life-giving necessity of both animal and vegetable life is assured and the valley is steadily coming into its own.

J. H. Nichelson has purchased 1½ acres on the corner of Craig and Haskell avenue of R. S. Lea, the consideration being $1500. The deal was made through the H. E. White agency. Mr. Nichelson will at once commence to improve his new property by the erection of a modern home and setting out its accompaniment of trees and flowers.

Mr. Jesse Knight and cousin, Wilber Seright, celebrated their joint birthdays last Saturday with a porch luncheon at the Knight home. It was a strictly family party and was made doubly pleasant by the presence of John O. Knight and wife of Los Angeles, who came out for the occasion.

S. P. Durand and family returned last week from a visit to the San Diego exposition.

The School District Meeting

The school district meeting last Saturday afternoon was well attended, and while as usual in all such cases, some little opposition developed, yet the great gain which the valley will receive in many ways by this needed improvement was soon shown and the meeting was unanimous in its decisions. The use of the basement of the Congregational church for school purposes during the change was kindly offered by the pastor. The letter from Wm. R. Stalts Co. showed that bonds voted now would mature at a time when the taxpayers would hardly feel the extra burden, owing to the increased valuation in the district, caused by the steady increase in population and homes. The regular minutes of the meeting follow:

The La Canada school district met in adjourned session at the call of the chairman in the schoolhouse on Saturday, July 24, 1915, and was called to order at 2:20 p. m. by the Rev. E. H. Brooks, chairman.

In the absence of the clerk H. L. Cooper was elected clerk pro tem.

Messrs. Knight, Green and Cooper were called upon for a report and spoke of the schoolhouses they had visited at Altadena, Lamanda Park, San Gabriel and others and of having talked with the master architect of the Altadena and Lamanda Park school houses, who came up and looked over the school grounds and stated that a good substantial building, suitable in every way, could be erected for $20,000, and so arranged that additional rooms could be added at any time as needed, without detriment.

Mr. White stated that the assessed valuation of the school district this year was $800,600.

Mr. Dale read letters from Torrence, Marshall & Co., and the Wm. R. Stalts Co. showing that 5½% bonds were now selling at a premium. The letters were filed with the clerk.

Mr. Pemberton, an architect who has designed many school buildings in Southern California, exhibited a design for a school building of four rooms and an assembly hall which could be built of brick, complete, ready for the furniture, for $18,000.

After some discussion it was voted unanimously, upon motion of the clerk and amended by Mr. Knight, as the sense of this meeting that the school trustees call a bond election for a sum not to exceed $20,000.

Mr. F. D. Lanterman stated that he thought not wise to have the sum restricted to $20,000 as the plans finally accepted might cost a little more. He therefore moved a re-consideration which was voted, and he then offered a motion that "The school trustees be instructed to call for competitive plans for a school building for the present grounds to be erected at a cost of not exceeding $20,000."

On motion the meeting then adjourned.

E. H. BROOKS, Chairman.
H. L. COOPER, Clerk pro tem.

There are rumors of a number of very important real estate deals which are expected to be completed soon, and which will have a great influence in continuing and increasing the popularity of this section as the ideal scenic home site of California.

Mrs. Lester is proving an adept pupil in learning to drive their car with Demonstrator Green as instructor, and so far has been able to miss all the telegraph poles, but still feels a little shaky when crossing bridges for fear the machine may take a notion to jump over the railing.

Mr. Thomas Blanchard returned Saturday from a three months' business trip to Denver and is again "at home" with the A. M. Guidinger family on Burr avenue. Mr. Blanchard spent several months early in the year in the valley and this return presages his becoming a permanent resident, which we will indeed welcome.

To R. S. Lea of Craig avenue belongs the honor of being the first subscriber to this paper under the new editor-in-charge. Mrs. Lea is visiting friends and relatives back in the old "show me" state and we found Mr. Lea busy re-painting the house, adding an attractive pergola and otherwise improving the premises.

The Thompson place on Michigan avenue, consisting of ten acres of plums, has become the property of F. H. Phillips, a contractor and builder of Pasadena, who gives in exchange three bungalows in the Crown City. Both parties to the exchange are now in possession of their new properties. With Mr. Phillips comes his daughter, Miss Carrie, and a niece, Miss Sylvia Butler, who will receive a cordial welcome from our young people to the social life of the community.

The La Canada Parent-Teacher association will hold its next regular meeting with Mrs. James Penfield on Hillard avenue on the first Friday afternoon in August. The guests will be entertained on the lawn in front of the house, where an informal program will be given and refreshments will be served. Everybody is invited to attend these meetings, which will be almost of a purely social character during the summer months. This association is one of the few that continue their meetings the entire year, and the success and interest in their work has proved the wisdom of so doing.

Mr. and Mrs. Nyby of Palm Drive are once more at home and caring for their pretty little bungalow and grounds, Mr. Nyby having been in charge of the Governor Wallace home and grounds since the first of the year.

The writer partook of the hospitality of Mr. Frank McCormick and sisters, Miss Ida and Miss Blanche, Tuesday and the dinner under the trees, served in picnic style, was indeed enjoyed. Mrs. M. M. McCormick, their mother, has an ideal ten acres almost adjoining Earlmont, where the family come annually as well as occasionally to spend their vacations, the main home being in Los Angeles. Miss Ida M. McCormick will be remembered by many of our readers, as she was a popular teacher some years ago in the Tropico city schools.

During the past week the editor-in-charge has spent considerable time in the La Canada valley and can truthfully say that he has heartily enjoyed every moment of it. The beautiful, ever changing view, from the almost overhanging grandeur of Mount Lowe to the wide expanse of valley and plain reaching to the ocean and to other mountains, the luxurious growth of trees, both fruit and forest, the attractive homes, whose numbers were a constant sur-

EAGLE ROCK

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bower, who have resided in the Davis property on College View avenue the past six months, will leave shortly for Idaho to visit the latter's parents, then return to their home in Aberdeen, Washington.

Mr. Spencer and mother have rented the Davis house on College View avenue and moved in Wednesday.

A. A. House, Otho La Porte and W. S. Moe, who were injured in a runaway four weeks ago, have returned to their work.

Many books have been added to the already large number at the Eagle Rock library during the past few weeks. Some were donated by friends and some sent out by the county library.

J. Monroe and family are now nicely settled in their new home on East Adams avenue.

This Sunday evening will be the beginning of the union services to be held by the Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists. This meeting will be held at the Congregational church, with Rev. Creswell, Presbyterian pastor, in charge.

The barbecue held in Eagle Rock Park last Saturday proved to be a big success socially and a grand time was had by all. About fifty tickets were sold so the Brotherhood prepared to feed that many people, but at eating time over one hundred persons appeared and more "eats" had to be sent for. Several young people had their uke'es and music was a main feature of the evening as well as games and riding on the merry-go-round. Late in the evening this happy affair was brought to a close, all wishing the evening had not slipped so quickly by.

Mrs. Fletcher and son Ernest left this week for their ranch home near Tulare.

Rev. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, supplied in his father's place Sunday at the Tropico M. E. church and Rev. Conneway took charge of the morning service here and Mr. Vince talked in the evening.

Much building appears to be going on in this city "so times must be getting better." Two new bungalows are being erected on East Eagle avenue, one on West Ridgeway and a 2-story house on East Ridgeway avenue. Two other houses are under construction in the eastern part of the city, besides a large concrete dwelling on Lawrence avenue.

Mrs. Mary Lientz and daughter Grace, who have resided in Eagle Rock for about two years, have moved back to Kansas City, Mo., their former home. Mrs. Lientz, until about six months ago, conducted a dry goods store here and during that time had made many friends who will greatly miss her.

Prof. and Mrs. Chandler and son Burney of Woodrow avenue are attending the exposition this week at San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Braddock and little daughter Janette have moved into one of the Harvard Park houses on Adams avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Scouten and three children are spending sometime at San Francisco and wil also take in the exposition.

If the plan of making a goat of the captain of the Eastland succeeds, he hopes to be only one goat of a considerable flock.

$3,000,000 FOR ROADS

On motion of C. D. Daggett of Pasadena, representatives from all parts of Los Angeles county on Wednesday endorsed a proposed $3,000,000 bond issue for building good roads. The vote was taken at the conclusion of a public hearing before the board of supervisors.

Mr. Daggett's first motion was that it be the concensus of opinion that the recommendations of Supervisor Hinshaw for a bond issue of $2,750,000 be endorsed, but on motion of Mr. Carles of Victor valley the amount was raised to $3,000,000. There was but one vote against the motion.

Two features were outstanding in the meeting, according to Secretary E. R. Sorver of the Pasadena Board of Trade, who attended the session with C. D. Daggett, T. P. Lukens and T. D. Allin. One was the feeling that mountain roads should be developed hand in hand with conservation work. There was a proposal to await for state action, but this did not meet with favor.

Every act of the United States now is construed by some belligerent as a violation of neutrality, an excellent sign that it isn't.
